

Dedication

The report is dedicated to Paul McCrory who died in October 2003. Paul was one of the founders of Body Positive and the Network of HIV Self-Help Groups and was a tireless campaigner and advocate for people with HIV.

Paul was one of a small group of people who were not afraid to challenge, confront and criticise to ensure the views of people with HIV were not forgotten. He leaves a big gap that will not be easily filled.

Acknowledgements

This report was written by Will Anderson for the National AIDS Trust.

The National AIDS Trust would particularly like to thank the men and women living with HIV who participated in the consultation for this report, whose experience and insight were invaluable. We would also like to thank the Positive Place and the Harbour Trust for their help in organising the consultation process, and Magda Conway, Susie McLean, Dorothy Mukasa and Peter Weatherburn for their comments and support.

The National AIDS Trust would like to thank the Department of Health for providing funding assistance with the publication of this guide.
